We have a pedigree in premium brands

Harri gives our managers the tools to enable them to have accountability, responsibility and ownership of recruitment, and not be completely reliant on a centralised team anymore.

Head of People & Culture,
The Belfry

Harri is in the hands of the employee from the very beginning. From the moment they apply, through their onboarding, every day as their punching in and out they can see if their punches are correct. Harri plays a huge role in that, and just in general technology plays a huge role in every day life.

People Director,
Hawksmoor

As a company with multiple brands, the ability to build a pool of talent for future positions is incredibly valuable. It's reduced the amount of time managers spend on recruitment. We're also taking advantage of the career branding feature to attract the right candidates.

Work hand in hand with Harri to deliver further excellence in employee experience

Recruit exceptional people

Give your candidates a recruitment experience that is just as premium as shopping at Harrods. Harri is built by hospitality professionals, for hospitality professionals: it's a smooth, high quality experience for both your Talent Acquisition teams and your candidates.

Retain your extraordinary team

Harrods employees are the heart and soul of your brand: they deliver your heritage, day in, day out. Regular communication with every employee, whether that's a sentiment survey or recognition of an important anniversary - reminding each and every employee how valued they are to Harrods. In turn, you can build stronger teams that stay the course with you.

Re-engage with Green & Gold

Reconnect and maintain relationships with past employees. Harri is a perfect partner to bring Harrods' Green & Gold Forever scheme to life. Remind past employees of their pedigree at Harrods, and of your company values, at every stage of communication.
